Using yum

1. Install the google chrome package using dnf [two methods] .

2. Create the file /etc/yum.repos.d/cdrom.repo to enable install from the iso of Red Hat

3. Try to install any package from the new repository

Using rpm

1. List all installed packages in your system.

2. View the files in the httpd package

3. Get general information about httpd.

4. Have the files from the pam package changed since it was installed.